

Anime & Kanji T-Shirts (girls & youth)

When we began our funny Japanese T-shirts more than ten years ago, we had no idea what a cult we were creating with college students, anime fans and general Japanophiles. All our original T-shirts are printed in San Diego on 100% cotton T-shirts 6.1 weight, 100% pre-shrunk. All shirts come with a professionally-printed tag to explain the meaning of the shirt. Note: if you wish to have shirts bagged in plastic polybags please let us know. Our new hats are all embroidered with multi-colored thread. Note: Domo (c) NHK-TYO 1998, all rights reserved. Japanese T-shirt - Shibuya 109 Style

Here's a new T-shirt that parodies the most famous image of the area, the Shibuya 109 department store. The design says, "Shibuya 109-kei" (the "-kei" meaning "style"), a universal word for describing the girls who identify themselves as loving the shops and fashions from Shibuya. A standard cap-sleeve fitted T-shirt for girls, with reflective gold printing for the design itself.
